STIMULATING ALL THE SENSES, THE WELLNESS THERAPY SERIES ENHANCES THE MIND-BODY-SOUL CONNECTION

WORDS _Kendra Jackson

Designed by architect Alberto Apostoli, the four-piece family from Varaschin is equipped with advanced technology, and its simple forms create a completely immersive and personal experience.

The Letto Singolo, an upholstered relaxation bed, can feature an attached elliptical light ring that is made of resin and equipped with RGB colour therapy; the emitted light can be a single colour or transition through an automatic rotation. More than 20 "wellness" fabrics are available for the mattress, and eight finishes are offered for the ring. Supports for the bed include any combination of tubular metal (in nine colours) or resin feet (in the same eight finishes as the light ring), contoured acrylic planks or stone-like tables. A double-bed version is also available.

ABOVE: As smooth as a pebble worn down by water, the Sasso side table has a pleasing tactility and soothing visual presence. A "multi-sensory furnishing element," the object distributes aromatherapy, chromotherapy and sound therapy and has a radiant heating function that warms the surface, which includes a spot for a cup of herbal tea. The stone-inspired resin piece comes in multiple sizes, five neutral shades and three textures.

Solutions for buildings. Designed for people.

All of our architectural products serve a distinct, functional purpose—from louvers to wall coverings to every detail we perfect—like our entrance mats and grids in the JPMorgan Chase Tower lobby. At the same time, we never lose sight of the effect a building has on people. The inspiration it provides. The satisfaction it brings. For 70 years, we've based our success on the idea that putting people first is the foundation for building better buildings. And, for 70 years, our partners have depended on us for architectural product solutions. Are you ready to think beyond the building with us? Visit csgroup.com.
